

“All That I Know”
26 January 2009

1vrs You say that you’re miserable with me, and you’re miserable without me/ so you mind as well be, miserable with me.
Oh love is too loose of a word to describe, the gravity that/ keeps pulling me back.
Even though I say that were through, we will never be through. When I say that I am done with you, you know this is not true.

Hook All that I know is what you mean to me, you’re my everything/ the reason why I sing.
What do I know about love you say, to know that I truly love you anyway?
Well, I can show you, better than I can tell you/ my love is true, it is so true.

2nd I cry a river that rise above, the walls of the ocean/ so full of emotions. Some say maybe, were just not meant to be/ but I say that you’re my heart, together or apart.
I say to myself, that its time to move on/ but if I am right, why does this feel so wrong?

Hook Repeat

3rd You tell me all that I mean to you, but only when I say that I am through. And still I fear losing you, despite all the pain that you put me through.
I push you away because I am afraid to stay, but when you’re not around/ I feel so dame down.
Am I crazy to want to let go? How I love you so.....
